HAPPY HOLIDAYS FROM ED, DIANE & KOFFEE

Secretary

Ed refinished Diane's grandparents' secretary from 1952. It stood in her parents' kitchen since 1978. She is using it as her laptop workstation now.

✧ The Pool ✧

The big project this year was putting in an in-ground swimming pool with new landscaping. As a result, we "stay-cationed" this year.

GRECIAN LAZY-L POOL

We had been thinking about a pool for several years and finally decided to do it after the challenges of last year. We contracted with Haymore Pools in April, and the pool was ready for swimming by the middle of June. It was completely finished in September. To see the rest of

Sporting Events

Ed got to attend a Red Sox game at Fenway Park on Sept 4th and went to see the Panthers beat the Patriots on Nov 18th. Great seats for both.

The Year in Review

The year began with a visit from Diane's brother and sister-in-law on their way to Florida. February and March were consumed by re-plumbing Ed's mother's house. It was a job way overdue but had to be done. By the end of March, Ed finished the secretary and had it set up for Diane to use as her laptop workstation. In April, we contracted for the pool. For Mother's Day, Ed built a roof over his mother's outdoor swing to protect it. At the end of May, we went north to Pennsylvania for Diane's cousin Amanda's wedding and stopped by Washington to visit with our old friend Perry Bird. In June, we went to Ocean City and Salisbury, MD when Marie, Jim, Hannah, and Caitlynn came to visit. In July, we reconnected with Marty and Lynette Neubauer since they moved to Hickory, NC. We visited them in Hickory and they came down to Childress Vineyards for lunch and a visit with us here in Tyro.

In August, Ed changed roles at his job and became the Director of Solution Engineering and Architectural Services - fancy title meaning UberGeek. The good news is that for the first time in a long time, he has no production support responsibilities. As a result, he did a little more traveling to Connecticut, Boston, Washington, DC, and Orlando, FL. It wasn't all work, as he was able to attend a Red Sox's game at Fenway Park and a Panther's game in Charlotte.

Diane continues teaching 6th grade Special Education at Tyro Middle School but is contemplating retirement in 2015, as each year is more challenging than the last.

Despite the extra wet summer, we enjoyed the pool until mid-October and then had to close it for the season. Ed closed out the year refinishing one of Diane's parents' end tables. We are going to put our Christmas Tree on it as a way to remember them this Christmas. We wish you and yours joy in the holidays and all the best in the coming year.
